

Energy

A vast reservoir of energy was somehow made available. Always it seems as if a new form of potent energy is clearly involved.

All energy is available to him who knows that it must not be grabbed, held, possessed or used for any other purpose except spiritual.

All the movement, all the energies, all forms, all happenings we must see as those in our one and real self in many existences.

As the retina enables us to see countless pulses of energy as a single light, so the mystical experience shows us innumerable individuals as a single Self.

Confront the awesome illumination of the metaphysical void and new energy transformations.

Dances which are spiritual, body movements can get you grooving with your internal energies.

Each level of energy which man has discovered outside exists within his body and is available to conscious discrimination.

Entities like electrons and photons can exist as waves or particles, energy or matter. (It's like water. If it's cold enough, it becomes ice and if it's hot enough, it becomes gas.)

Even a rock contains far more space than "matter" while "matter" itself seems to dissolve more and more into energy patterns.

Every cell is an electro-chemical-social system more complicated than the city of New York—with 2 billion years of accurate intelligence-energy memory built into the nucleus.

Every cell of your body is an energy torch which tracks back through millions of generation transformations.

Everywhere we look, we imagine solid objects, but science finds only a web of dancing energy.

Excitement was brewing in the Haight. The psychedelic city-state was having its brief golden age. The energy was unmistakably sky-high.

Feelings of awe, reverence or sacredness are the natural emotional response to the realization of the overwhelming power and radiance of the universal energy process.

For many, a sense of discontinuity between nature and man and man's loss of the spontaneous free energy of eternal delight, is the essential tragedy of modern man.

Get in touch with your sense organs as cameras to put you in direct touch with vibrant energies around you.

Go beyond your secular tribal mind to contact the many levels of divine energy which lie within your consciousness.

Identification with the creative energy of the cosmos often inspires a new attitude toward life and becomes the foundation for a new understanding of existence.

Into the Energy which exists before Matter and there in pure Energy, was All-Knowledge.

Just as any object can become the essence of all energy, any note of music can be sensed as naked energy trembling in space, timeless.

LSD subjects in this state experience powerful currents of energy streaming through their bodies.

Man is only dimly aware of the powers, energies, plannings and wisdom that surround him and radiate through him.

Many people report visions of brilliant light with a super-natural quality radiating divine intelligence or experience God as pure spiritual energy permeating all.

My body and all bodies come forth from this whirl of energy as leaves comes from trees and fish from the ocean and most importantly, stars from space.

My forms are infinite and their comings and goings are simply the pulses or the vibrations of a single and eternal flow of energy.

Myself does not reside in the ego alone, but in the whole surge of energy which ranges from the galaxies to the nuclear fields in my body.

New energies excite our highest aspirations and can alter our central notions of man and his place on this planet.

Nothing exists except undulating energy and flowing consciousness upon which the grasping mind imposes categories which have nothing to do with the energy-flow.

One feels open to a total flow, over and around and within the body and one becomes more and more conscious of these threads of energy, of their vibrations.

One must be tuned into the flow of the life energy and enjoy one's existence; then the value of life is self-evident.

One sees quite clearly that all existence is a single energy and that this energy is one's own being.

Psychedelic drugs allow you to see and hear new patterns of energy that suggest new patterns for composition. In this way, they enhance the creative perspective.

“Self” is not only the body but the whole energy system which embodies itself in all bodies.

Sexual energies will be unimaginably intensified and it will lead to a deeper experience than ever thought possible.

The archetypal figures are endowed with great energy and numinous power. When we encounter them, the experience is usually associated with strong emotion. (eyes closed)

The doctrine will be paralyzing so long as it is doctrine only; but when it is a matter of personal experience, it becomes impulse and energy and inspiration.

The energy fields and the streaming of energy can be experienced in a tangible way and can even be visually perceived with the eyes closed.

The individual feels full of excitement and energy, yet centered and peaceful and perceives the world as if through cleansed senses.

The infinite acts without effort; without the use of energy, it produces energy, just as it produces the finite without being finite itself in its essence.

The person is allowed to glance back down the flow of time and perceive how the life energy continually manifests itself in forms, transient, always changing, reforming.

The subject can witness or identify with the birth and development of the cosmos involving dimensions and energies of unimaginable scope.

The subject experiences in this state powerful currents of energy streaming through his or her entire body.

The “turned-on” person realizes that he is not an isolated, separate social ego, but rather one transcendent energy process hooked up with the energy dance around him.

There is simply energy in various intensities, durations, qualities, patterns: signals to be received, changed, selected, filed, retrieved and harmonized.

These drugs, if properly used, could be the source of energy that is to transform the human mind.

This Other World is vibrant, with strange energy transformations and exists in another dimension of mind or self.

To experience directly, we must transcend the verbal-symbol imprint, experience energy-flow directly, receive energy messages directly.

Victory over life and death is won by seeing the oscillating dance of energy and yielding to it.

We attempt to impose our ego-will on the ever-changing life process, a stoppage, a blocking of life-energy flow.

We ignore and are unconscious of the dependence of our consciousness and energy upon the outer world.

We maintain the illusion of living in a solid world, though in fact, a mountain range of granite is a network of electrical energy.

We must discover new mental energy sources for overcoming our society’s psychological inertia and anachronistic state of mind.

When the psychic energy first begins to be felt, there is a growing sensation within of thousands of delicate threads moving about the body.

Whereas your ego is your idea of yourself, the total energy system of the universe is what you are.

With psychedelics, a new energy—a potent psychic energy—has entered the world stage and must be reckoned with.

A person in this state suddenly sees that everything in the universe is a manifestation and expression of the same creative cosmic energy and that separation and boundaries are illusory.

An enormous amount of energy from every fiber of your body is released under LSD, most especially including sexual energy. There is no question that LSD is the most powerful aphrodisiac ever discovered by man.

DNA code—It's a living history of every form of energy transaction on this planet back to that thunderbolt in the Precambrian mud that spawned the life process 2 billion years ago (DNA code, the genetic blueprint within each cell of the body).

During some spiritual states, one sees the ordinary environment as a glorious creation of divine energy, filled with mystery; everything within it appears to be part of an exquisite inter-connected web.

Every assertion about the basic substance or energy of reality must be meaningless. (That's because assertions are based on words, which are too limited to say anything meaningful about the basic substance or energy of reality.)

If the answer existed within the conscious ego, the quest would never have begun. The answer is found in those areas that were previously unconscious, those areas where the body links and joins other bodies and the total energy continuum of life and ecology.

If you get with yourself, get with gravity, get with energy, following its line of least resistance, you will discover that all the vibrations of nature are ecstatic, erotic or blissful. Existence is orgasm.

In developing systems for communicating experience, how can we transmit energy patterns to "turn on" the receiver—i.e., directly stimulate the nervous system, bypassing the receiver's symbol system?

In modern physics, matter becomes interchangeable with energy. Within this new worldview, consciousness is seen as an integral part of the universal fabric, certainly not limited to the activities contained inside our skulls.

It seems likely that any religious use of the drugs will have to be carried on in cults, outside traditional institutions. This is a pity, for it deprives the churches of a powerful influx of ecstatic energy—the very element of which they are in shortest supply.

It's as though for all of your normal waking life you have been caught in a still photograph, in an awkward, stereotyped posture. Suddenly, the show comes alive, balloons out to several dimensions and becomes irradiated with color and energy.

Matter is not inert. Whether it is organic or inorganic, we are learning to see matter as patterns of energy, not of energy as if energy were a stuff, but an energetic pattern, moving order, active intelligence.

Rocks are aware. Inorganic matter is involved in energy changes, structural excitements, evolvings, pressured sculptings. Inorganic matter—rocks, cliffs, valleys, mountains are alive and wise.

Tao signifies the energy of the universe as a way, current, course or flow which is at once intelligent and spontaneous. It's your own true self, the very energy and patterning of your bones, muscles and nerves.

The LSD experience is a confrontation with new forms of wisdom and energy that dwarf and humiliate man's mind. This experience of awe and revelation is often described as religious.

The opening of the channel between the conscious and the superconscious levels, between the "I" and the Self, and the flood of light, energy and joy which follows, often produces a wonderful release.

The psychedelic can alter the perception of energy, matter, and time in such a way as to enable select random access of the spatial and temporal dimensions and make it possible to inhabit the skins of a variety of forms and entities.

The veil which made you see duality drops away and you experience the world as a blissful sport of God's energy. You see the universe as supremely blissful light, undifferentiated from yourself and you remain unshakable in this awareness.

The world of separate individuals and objects is replaced by an undifferentiated pool of energy patterns or consciousness in which various kinds and levels of boundaries are playful and arbitrary.

There are as many levels of consciousness as there are neurological, sensory, anatomical, cellular, molecular and atomic structures within the human body—a galaxy of communication systems and energy patterns, being sent and received.

There exists a range of energies and awarenesses beyond the imprinted symbols of rational thought which can work with a rapidity and efficiency beyond the workaday conceptual processes.

Those aspects of the psychedelic experience which subjects report to be ineffable and ecstatically religious involve a direct awareness of the energy processes which scientists measure.

We can experience ourselves as a play of energy or a field of consciousness that is not confined to a physical container. (In other words, we are far more than an ego enclosed by the skin.)

We can see rites of passage as structured events in which individuals can confront, experience and express powerful energies associated with matrices deep in the unconscious. (eyes closed)

We cannot wait around, dealing with energies which are so insistent and important, until scientists or government agencies tell us that we can take that risk. (Don't wait until the power forces tell you that it's all right because it won't happen.)

We have been taught to narrow our awareness to a fantasy world of symbol solids. But that's not how it really is. All matter is energy—everything is whirling change, even you! Look at your baby pictures. Look in the mirror. You are a dramatically changing process.

All of creation—people, animals, plants and inanimate objects—seems to be permeated by the same cosmic essence and divine light. A person in this state suddenly sees that everything in the universe is a manifestation and expression of the same creative cosmic energy and that separation and boundaries are illusory.

Bad trips may ultimately be good ones. The “bad trip” is one in which the person recoils in terror when unexpectedly confronted with ranges of energy which he cannot control. (This is the ego dying and one has to be prepared for it so that it’s not so “unexpected”. As for the terror, it’s all in one’s mind or ego.)

Each atom is a structure of detailed intricacy held together by energy of such speed and power that it eludes our conception. Each atom is a space-ship of galactic proportions and at the center of each galactic structure God places the entire staff of his atomic engineers. Do you understand the brilliance of the design?

Every time you take LSD you completely suspend, you step outside of the symbolic chessboard which you have built up over the long years of social conditioning and you whirl through different levels of neurological and cellular energy, continually flowing and changing.

LSD subjects often arrive at the conclusion that no real boundaries exist between themselves and the rest of the universe. Everything appears to be part of a unified field of cosmic energy, and the boundaries of the individual are identical with the boundaries of existence itself.

Man is going to get back in harmony with his body, with fellow man and with other forms of life on this planet. Man is going to realize that consciousness is the key to human life and instead of power struggles over territory and possession of weapons, the focus of man’s energies is going to be on consciousness.

Most of the awe and reverent wonder stems from this confrontation with an unsuspected range of consciousness, the tremendous acceleration of images, the shattering insight into the narrowness of the learned as opposed to the potentiality of awareness, the humbling sense of where one’s ego is in relationship to the total energy field.

Psychedelic subjects regularly report experiencing events that seem to harmonize with quantum mechanics. They speak of participating in and emerging with pure energy; of witnessing the breakdown of objects into vibratory patterns, the awareness that everything is a dance of particles.

The mystical teachings of all ages revolve around the idea that the exclusive pursuit of material goals and values by no means expresses the full potential of human beings. According to this point of view, humanity is an integral part of the creative cosmic energy and intelligence and is, in a sense, identical to and commensurate with it.

The person is at one with the universe. In his mystic selflessness he awakens with a feeling of rebirth, often physically felt and he is provided with a new beginning, a new sense of values. He becomes aware of the richness of the unconscious at his disposal; the energies bound up in and by repression become available to him.

There are energy systems, blueprinting facilities and memory systems within your cells and your nervous system which are hundreds of millions of years old, which have a language and a politics which are much more complicated than English and modern Democrat-Republican politics.

LSD subjects often consider the possibility that consciousness is a basic cosmic phenomenon related to the organization of energy and that it exists throughout the universe; in this context, human consciousness appears to be only one of its many varieties and outgrowths. Episodes of consciousness of inorganic matter can be accompanied by various insights of a philosophical and religious relevance.

Perceptions of encompassing light, infinite energy, ineffable visions, and incommunicable knowledge are remarkable in their seeming distinction from perceptions of the phenomena of the “natural world”. According to mystics, these experiences are different because they pertain to a higher transcendent reality. What is perceived is said to come from another world, or at least another dimension.

There is no form of energy on this planet that isn't recorded somewhere in your body. Built within every cell are molecular strands of memory and awareness called the DNA code, the genetic blueprint that has designed and executed the construction of your body. This is an ancient strand of molecules that possesses memories of every previous organism that has contributed to your present existence.

Three hundred years ago, if I announced there was a level of reality made up of tiny particles which seem to have a beauty, a meaning, a planfulness of their own, I'd be in danger of being imprisoned. When I could persuade people to look through the microscope lens at a leaf, or a snowflake or a drop of blood, then they would discover that beyond the macroscopic world are visible realms of energy and meaning.

Under conditioning, it seems impossible and even absurd to realize that myself does not reside in the ego alone, but in the whole surge of energy which ranges from the galaxies to the nuclear fields in my body. At this level of existence “I” am immeasurably old; my forms are infinite and their comings and goings are simply the pulses or vibrations of a single and eternal flow of energy.

We find drug subjects with little or no scientific training describing evolutionary processes in some detail, spelling out the scenery of microcosm and macrocosm in terms roughly equivalent to those used by the modern physicist, empathizing with primal states of matter and energy and then recounting this experience in terms more reminiscent of Heisenberg than of a hallucinatory state.

Events in the sessions are part of a broad pattern, the scope of which transcends the energy field of the individual. (Then again, the individual's energy field is the entire universe. We all have or share the same unlimited energy field. It transcends the energy field of the ego which is finite and not to be confused with the individual or the individual's energy field which is infinite. Words can be tricky. The individual is not the ego.)

A marvelous energy is tapped.

All is energy; all energy flows; all things continually transform.

All matter, all structure is pulsating energy.

All matter is energy in temporary states of change and there's no structure.

Contact the ancient energies and wisdom that are built into your nervous system.

Could I hurl myself into the chaos with nothing but my trust in the energy?

Each one of us is a manifestation of the total energy of the universe.

Energy flows.
Energy itself is eternal delight.
Energy was never created and can never be destroyed.
Every energy is divine.
Existence is basically a kind of dancing or music, an immensely complex energy system.
Exquisite forms dance by. Objects radiate energy, brilliant emanations.
Feel the ecstatic energy vibrations pulsing through you.
God is a singing, swinging energy process who likes to laugh and make love.
Great beings of every tradition had their inner energy awakened.
He develops new and free energy from the unconscious to alter his life situation.
I exist at every form of energy and every level of consciousness. (So do you.)
Immerse yourself in the energy, the divine energy of creation.
In this universe, there is one great energy and we have no name for it.
LSD is the source of energy that is to transform human consciousness.
Man can become conscious of each level of energy defined by scientists.
Now I know what Leary means by the “energy” liberated under LSD.
Pay attention to the body’s energies and messages.
Relax, trust your divinity, trust your energy process.
Space is the relationship between bodies and without it, there can’t be energy and motion.
The individual organism and its environment are a continuous stream or field of energy.
The undifferentiated energy process is real.
The universe is comprised more of energy frequencies than of matter.
The universe itself is an energy system which vibrates.
The whole universe of multiplicity is the play of a single energy, the Supreme Self.
There are endless levels of energy transformations accessible to consciousness.
There are many levels of energy within and around us.
There is an energetic aspect to awareness.
Trust in the universal energy.
Tune in on the internal and external energy accessible to the human nervous system.
We are all one, intimately united in our eternal energy.
We live in a frozen world, cut off from the flow of life and energy.
We were young and idealistic with energy and ready to change the world.
You’re in pulsating harmony with all the energy around you.

I have finally come to myself and I have another body, a body of bliss, a pure body of light and energy.

The subject becoming aware of himself as continuous with the energy of the universe, feels himself to be filled by divinity.

The world is not static and dead. It’s now a shimmering dance of living energy. All solidity is gone.

The new world in which I find myself has an extraordinary transparency or freedom from barriers making it seem that I have somehow become the energy space in which everything is happening.

Now I not only understand that matter is energy—I can FEEL it.

An incredible amount of light and energy was enveloping me and streaming in subtle vibrations through my whole being.

For the first time, I was experiencing the universe for what it really is—an unfathomable mystery, a divine play of energy.

He felt light, ecstatic, reborn and pulsing with exuberant life energy. His senses felt cleansed and wide open.

He felt that for the first time in his life he was experiencing the universe for what it really is—an unfathomable mystery, a divine play of energy.

I distinctly had the sensation of having been with God in the energy center of the universe.

I felt as though the fullest floods of the energies of the universal Mother were flowing through me.

I felt in me an unshakable conviction that there is indeed a universal and God-created energy which expresses itself as rhythm in all things.

I felt so blessed to have seen what I felt was this energy of creation at its purest and highest vibration.

I had the keenest feeling of being out of my body, floating in the field of energy. It was incredibly exhilarating.

I sensed that my identity was shifting from being the manifestation of this Energy to being the Energy itself.

I sensed the cosmic quality of the energies and experiences involved in the world of living forms.

It was like being at the very center of the energy source. It was like being in God—not just in God’s presence, but IN God and participating in God.

My energetic field was now extended far beyond the boundaries of my physical body, drawing emotional nourishment from this energy.

My pelvis was vibrating as enormous amounts of energy were being released in ecstatic jolts.

Suddenly I felt the presence of a strong energy field, as though I were at the center of a vortex of sacred energy.

As I looked around the room, I saw great bands of moving streams of energy particles traversing the space, passing through and between myself and the other people. We all seemed to be part of these moving, everchanging bands of energy.

As you returned from these experiences of pure contentless energy, the world of images and categories in which we live our normal lives did indeed seem like a “plastic doll world.”

LSD had flipped consciousness out beyond life into the whirling dance of pure energy, where nothing existed except whirling vibrations and each illusory form was simply a different frequency.

The body sensations were distinctly oceanic. The rushes were like waves and it seemed to make self-evident the principle that everything in the universe was comprised of waves of energy at varying frequencies.

The walls were vibrating and the air was becoming three-dimensional with psychedelic trails and energy patterns moving through it. Everything was coming alive with psychedelic energy.

They discovered within themselves that universal river of ecstasy from which flowed the energy, power and refreshment to revive religious bodies tired out by too much intellectualism, moralism and institutionalism.

This was a primal surge of unnamed energy, without direction or structure, amazing in its power. One could only align oneself in the streaming torrent or the turbulence became overwhelming. (If the ego fights this, it will have a very very hard time.

Every object in the room was a radiant structure of atomic-God-particles. Radiating. Matter did not exist. There was just this million-matrix lattice web of energies. Shimmering. Alive. Interconnected in space-time. Everything hooked up in a cosmic dance.

I experienced a thunderbolt of ecstasy and my body dissolved into the flow of matter or energy of which the universe is made. I was swept into the core of existence from which all things arise and into which all things converge. Here there is no distinction between subject and object, space and time, or anything else....

It dawned on me that all the building blocks of the social structure were really nothing but an imposing veneer that kept you from being godlike, and that as soon as we knew the true potential of our own energy frequencies to overcome or pass through the artificial walls, the human spirit could be liberated.

People came out of these sessions reeling with awe, overwhelmed by experiences of oneness with God and all other beings, shaken to the depths of their nature by the grandeur and power of the divine life-energy processes going on within their own consciousness.

Slowly, I felt the physical and energetic resistance between us give way. There was still a solid form, but it was now somewhat fluid, like mercury. Then I felt the boundary between what was me and what was him dissipate, and I merged totally into him. I felt a complete oneness with him and his spirit, as though I'd gone right into his body.

It was as though a veil had been stripped away and certain things had become suddenly self-evident. I realized that there was just one force in the universe. There is only one energy and that is consciousness. And there is only one consciousness, one mind, and we are, in fact, one with this, which means we are all one. I felt this was a revelation of the true nature of reality.

Previously, I had forgotten the childish joy of simply being alive. Tripping makes you feel the way an infant must feel, in the absence of discomfort, simply being: energetic, open, interested. Tripping lent to my life the grace of fairy tales, where everything is right and appropriate and satisfying. Psychedelic drugs engender storybook experiences: one is tremendously cozy, delighted, enchanted, lucky.

The ordinary world was erased, it was expanded, enlivened and made infinitely more interesting. For example, I became totally engrossed in contemplating the fascinating edges of weaving around edges and radiating out from them. The telephone was a veritable marvel of diamond studded, gem-encrusted, crystalline sculpture, yet itself also moving, breathing, changing, as if it were alive.

What saved me from despair of my encounter with the Nothingness that lies at the heart of All was the realization that what I had witnessed was the destruction of matter, not of spirit. Modern physics tells us that matter is composed of atoms that stick together for a time to form an object—a table, a wall, a human body. Matter is energy; I saw it re-transformed.

He re-experienced his own embryological development, from the fusion of the sperm and egg through the millions of cell divisions and processes of differentiation to a whole individual. This was accompanied by an enormous release of energy and radiant light. The sequences of embryonal development were intermingled with phylogenetic flashbacks showing the transformation of animal species during the historical evolution of life. (eyes closed)

All of me seemed electrified. I felt energized, pure and glorified.
Ecstatic energies pulsated up my arms and rocketed into my brain.
Her powerful image-energy machine flooded mine and I spun into her head.
I could sense energies coming in from outer space and going out from the Earth.
I felt ecstatic, saturated with delight, security, joy and especially a marvelous energy.
I felt reborn in a transcendent fountain of All Energy.
I felt that my energy was somehow merged with the universe.
I passed through the levels of reality between the material world and pure energy.
I started noticing that the objects around me were endowed with awesome energy.
In their enthusiasm, they returned from the Other World with a childlike energy.
Incredible amounts of energy seemed to be flowing through his entire body.
LSD flipped my consciousness into a dance of energy.
My body felt elastic and full of energy.
My whole body was pulsing with new energy. I relaxed into this orgasmic vitality.
One felt one's body to be super charged with energy.
She radiated energy.
There were fantastic energy flows and information flows going through me.

a being possessed of mysterious creative powers, able to utilize new forms of energy (That's all of us.)

a new orientation complete with insight and energy sufficient to effect a dramatic and positive self-transformation

a phenomenon of nature, a singing, dancing, bubbling, laughing, exuberantly, loving, energetically thinking and talking human being a sense of receiving new flesh, new blood and new eyes, being charged with supernatural energy and connected with the elements of nature an experience of ecstatic connection with nature, with the cosmic order, and with the creative energy of the universe an indiscriminate, unsupervised, uncontrolled 2 billion year old energy dance with ecstatic communion as its goal an intense experience of cosmic consciousness, of the vivid realization that oneself is a manifestation of the eternal energy of the universe awareness that our bodies are momentary clusters of energy and that we are capable of tuning in on patterns contacted an Energy or an Intelligence that seemed to deserve the description superhuman contacted the molecular energies within the cellular structure, experiencing the “inner light” ecstatic energy movement felt in the spine. This energy will be sensed as flowing upwards energy, fun, religious revelation, sexual enhancement, aesthetic kick, ecstasy, accelerated learning enlightenment, full awareness of that blissful Reality whose attributes include inconceivable wisdom, compassion, light, beauty, energy and gaiety images of God perceived as pure, spiritual energy, as a transcendental or cosmic sun (eyes closed) immediate contact through chemicals with the reality of “consciousness, energy and bliss”

LSD, its eerie power to release ancient, wise, at times even Holy sources of energy, inside the human brain surfaces swelling and expanding from bright modes of energy that vibrated with a continuously changing, patterned life the awe that comes when the veil is torn from your eyes and you see the nature of the energy process you’re involved in the creative energy and intelligence of the universe as pure consciousness, existing beyond time and space

the electric dance of energy, the wisdom of your electricity, radiant, dazzling wave energy the infinite moment when we immersed ourselves in the waters of our deepest selves, one with the universe, the rhythm, the energy, one with the pulse of existence the spiritual warmth of radiant energy, to become one with the energy, to become the energy itself, free at last the state of radiant unity—there is only one network of energy, everything a manifestation of the single pattern this indefinable energy system, which in its entirety, is what and who each individual truly is to become directly aware of energy exchanges and biological processes for which we have no language and no perceptual training to lead the voyager back to the central stream of energy from which he has been separated by game involvements to move consciousness from the usual objective level back to the process or energy level found by modern mathematical physics to throb in harmony with the energies radiating on the sense organs—the mark of a sage, holy man, a radiant teacher transformation into animal forms, becoming inanimate objects or pure energy and dissolution into the no-body state

“wave energy flow”—aware that you’re part of and surrounded by a charged field of energy which seems almost electrical would find liberation, the energies would flow, the neurotic armor would fall off, a new and naked soul would be born direct spiritual experiences, such as feelings of cosmic unity, a sense of divine energy streaming through the body, death-rebirth sequences, visions of light of supernatural beauty enormous networks of electrical forces—atom, molecule, cell, planet, stars: all forms dancing to the nuclear tune. The cosmic design is this network of energy whirling through space-time.

science—the systematic attempt to record and measure the energy process-data, religion—the systematic attempt to provide answers to the same questions-by direct personal experience the revelation of a unified cosmology, no longer sundered by the ancient irreconcilables of mind and matter, substance and attribute, thing and event, agent and act, stuff and energy

a dancing, joyous harmony of energy transactions

a divine spark of energy in one’s heart

a feeling of free flow of emotions and energy

a feeling of unity of all energy, the ecstatic of all in one, all superficial differences gone

a gathering in and integration of the previously scattered energies

a heightening of psychic energy

a high-energy state

a liberation of energy

a magnetic-electric-psychic flow or energy between sound, light and dance

a many-dimensioned cosmos of energy fields

a powerful influx of ecstatic energy

a pure energy that was the whole of being a single, eternal and harmonious energy—exuding a sense of joy and love

a transforming energy

an acute awareness of energy in the world an awareness of energy transformations with no imposition of mental categories an intelligence increaser, an energizer, a sensual enhancer an intense energy can experience overwhelming streams of energy charge the psyche with energy concentrating the energies of consciousness in a state of acuteness, of total awareness contacts the energy which powers the mind cosmic creative energy cosmic energies

creative cosmic energy creative energy
direct contact with God's energy direct experience of the basic energy of life divine energy
dynamic patterns continually changing into one another—a continuous dance of energy dynamic patterns of energy ecstatic energy
ecstatic merging with the unleashed energies Einstein—structure becomes process. Matter becomes a transcendent state of energy.
Einstein's proposal that energy and matter were equivalent energized from his experience (being energized as a result of his experience) energizing, sense-heightening drugs energy flux
energy in its pure unstructured state, the E of Einstein's equation energy transformations energy vibrations
enhances the energies released existing on higher planes of consciousness and higher energy levels experienced a surge of energy, closely followed by a feeling of intense mental acuity faith in the energy, the energy that is us and supports all life felt she became electric with fantastic energy going through her felt overflowing energy harmonious system of energy exchanges higher, freer energies higher planes of consciousness and higher energy levels identification with undifferentiated vibratory energy in perceptual touch with other levels of energy exchanges infinite energy
integrated, harmonious system of energy exchanges intelligent energy intense sensations of energy into that great golden orb of energy that warms and protects us locked into the primordial energy of the globe
LSD—a new form of energy
LSD the source of energy that is to transform human intelligence and consciousness merging into the common, all-pervasive nuclear web of energy merging with energy flux, seeing all life forms as physical waves, existence as energy new levels of energy, new layered realities, new stages of evolution novel energy levels and unusual forms of perception on the psychic plane, in the energy opening the self to higher energies patterns of energy flow physical, emotional and spiritual energies playful energy patterns psychedelic visions of harmony, love, and trust in the sweet, divine energy of creation psychic energy pulsating energy patterns

pure, symbol-free energy radiant energy
raw, molecular, dancing units of energy realization of the all-pervading, unitive energy process of which he is a part releasing blocked emotional and physical energies see the world and themselves in terms of spiritual energy involved in a divine play spiritual emotions and energies stepping into the energy, trusting in the energy strange physical energies strong forces of psychic energy that basic and timeless energy that brilliant blazing energy that state of blissful, energy-infused, intoxicated oneness that supreme energy
the arousal of the inner cosmic energy the awareness of energy transformations with no imposition of mental categories
the dance of energy the dance of energy transformations. All is one dance of electrical energy.
the dance of the body, humming with energy the dancing-moving merging energy the discovery of energies within which men call "divine"
the ecstatic energy
the energy and power involved in changing your nervous system
the energy flow of the universe
the energy of ecstasy the energy of inspiration
the energy source you sense in yourself and around you the eternal flow of always-changing energy processes
the experience of direct energy the heightened charge of energy released by transcendent experiences the highest level of life energy the highest state of complete unity and pure egoless energy the immense potentiality of sex energy the intelligent dance of energy the latticework shuttling of energy patterns
the levels of energy and wisdom inside the music and the passion and energy pouring into the room the mysterious energies flashing through his eyes and ears

the mysterious, inexhaustible, eternal life energy the mythical life energy
the one and indivisible divine energy the one cosmic energy which is the essence of all there is the oneness of all energy the physical world, a manifestation of innumerable and simultaneous energy patterns
the play of energy
the play of patterned energy the primal energy in the universe the psychedelic experience, a Niagara of light energy the pure flow of energy sensed as intense feelings
the raw and vital energies released through ecstasy the release of this innate wisdom and creative energy in people the unified energy field
the unified field of cosmic energy, this fundamental energy the vibrant dance of energy the whirling energy flow in them and around them this all-pervading Energy he feels around him this fantastic new energy
this magical electrical energy this state of ultimate cosmic energy this timeless energy process around you timeless flights into pure energy vibration fields to awaken spiritual energies to contact energy beyond your game to liberate this dynamic energy to pull back the veil and see for a second a fragment of the energy process, the life power to pull back the veil and see the energy dance, the life power to refocus on the natural energies within the body to soar through the infinite space/time of the energy fields surrounding you touching the source of life's energy unleashing intense psychic energies unusual psychic energy was at the heart of meaning and the radiant core of the energy process wave energy flow wave vibrations, energy dance
whirled through the energy dance, the cosmic process